PROTEST HANDED WOODFORD.

Uncle Sam Warned About Filibustering, General Weyler.

MADRID, Oct. 25.—A government note protesting against filibustering was handed to United States Minister Woodford today.

There is no doubt that the government's reply represents the deep feeling of the nation. The note dwells at length on filiburtering and "other material and moral assistance which has chiefly contributed to the rise and duration of the rebellion and which in turn has damaged American interests."

It clearly intimates that Spain cannot continue the "forbearance shown by Senor Canovas Del Castillo and the duke of Tetuan during the past two years" and she now calls upon the American government to "fullfill more strictly in the future the rules and duties of international law," because "the success of the new home rule policy and the speedy pacification of Cuba chiefly depend upon the conduct of the United States."

El Imparcial pubishes a cablegram from Key West asserting that there is a strong party in Cuba "fiercely opposed to Marshal Blanco and a new regime" and that it is feared his task will be very difficult.

According to dispatch from Havana Lieutenant General Weyler has ordered the abandonment of demonstrations that were being prepared there in his favor and against the government.

Mrs. Woodford, the wife of the United States minister, has arrived here. General Woodford has not yet taken an official residence, but will continue to occupy apartments at the Hotel De Rome.

London Standard's Views.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Standard says of Spain's note to Woodford: "If, as we have difficulty to believe, Spain has threatened to search suspected vessels in Cuban waters in case filibustering continues, it is quite certain that Senor De Lome will be told that Spain would do so at her own peril.

"It is highly improbable that the United States will declare war with Spain, but it may recognize the Cubans as belligerents.

"The American navy, though of modest dimensions, is of excellent quality, and could be increased indefinitely, whereas the Spanish ships in the West Indies are in a most unsatisfactory condition and even in the important matter of speed fall far short of modern requirements. Such a war would inevitably mean the loss of Cuba.

"We believe it is the idlest of dreams for Spain to hope for assistance from any European power. No doubt the United States would manage to leave with Spain the responsibility of declaring war, and Europe has too many burning questions of its own in Europe, Africa and Asia to saddle itself gratuitously with another of the new world."

TO MURDER THE SHERIFF.

Conspiracy Said to Have Been Unearthed to Avenge Lattimer Shooting.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 25.—An alleged conspiracy to murder Sheriff Martin, who led the deputies who fired upon and killed a score of strikers at Lattimer on Sept. 10, has been discovered by the arrest of John Seplak, who was wounded in the riot. The complainant was the sheriff's son William, who says he overheard Seplak threaten to kill his father. On Seplak was found a razor wrapped in a printed circular describing the shooting and calling for vengeance. From the talk overheard it is said that the prisoner is one of a gang of 15 detailed by the foreigners to murder the sheriff. He denies the charge.

FROM DAWSON CITY

Arrival of the Steamer Humbolt at Seattle, Wash.

WHAT THE PASSENGERS SAY.

Hardships Encountered In Reaching St. Michael From the Gold Fields—Circle City the Largest Log Cabin Town In the World—Shortage of Provisions—Immense Amount of Gold at Dawson City.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 25. — The steamer Humbolt has arrived here with five men from Dawson City, leaving there Sept. 3 and three men from Minonk and other points on the Yukon. They say no gold will come out this fall as this steamer has taken the last of those who have come down the Yukon. The river is already frozen hard and the boats are laid up for the winter.

The Humbolt left St. Michaels Oct. 3. The five men from Dawson are John F. Miller and Frank E. Sims of this city; C. A. Harrison of Atchison, Kan.; William Dubel, New Jersey, and William Braund of Black Diamond, Wash. They were passengers on the river steamer Margaret. When they found the mouth of the river blocked with ice the resolved to come overland at all hazards. For seven days they crept forward through terrible wind and snowstorms. Some of them fell in their tracks and had to be helped by their stronger companions. They crossed the river covered with thin ice by laying down and pushing their pack before them, and at night they sought shelter from the storm by huddling in an Eskimo tent or lying unprotected from the biting wind save by blankets. Of the 5,000 or 6,000 people in Dawson and vicinity at least 1,000 will be obliged to flee from impending starvation.

One Way of Relief.

Up to Sept. 3, when the Miller party left Dawson, new arrivals numbered from three to 20 people daily, and there is no doubt that that ratio will be continued all winter. Three hundred men were working in the gulches and in the hills were several prospectors, all of whom knew nothing of the shortage and were depending on the company stores for provisions. Five hundred or 1,000 could winter at Circle City, 100 miles below Dawson and draw their supplies by dog train from Fort Yukon. Circle City has 500 houses and is said to be the largest log cabin town in the world.

"Our leaving," says Sims, "was the beginning of a stampede for grub. Transportation companies at St. Michaels and Fort Yukon claim the liquor traffic has no appreciable effect on the supply of provisions. Not more than 30 tons of liquor, they say, has gone into the country."

With the blockrde of Yukon, every possibility vanishes of treasures by the steamer Portland. No gold will come out this year.

There is any amount of gold at Dawson. It is not unusual to see horses loaded with dust. But the mines are owned by men who know their value. "One sees it on every hand," the returning miners say, "It seems plentiful, but you must remember, it is more plentiful in the United States treasury and is just as hard to get. People who flock to the mines expecting to pick up gold in the grass roots, do not realize what they are up against.

There is no doubt that a large amount of treasure will come from the Yukon basin next year, if the miners can get enough to eat to continue mining during the winter Gold sent out early this year will not be a circumstance to next spring's output of the sluice boxes.

Mr. Miller says nothing of considerable value has been found this summer. There is not an inch of ground unstaked on the Klondike.

ANOTHER TRUST FORMING.

This Time It Is the Sewerpipe and Terra Cotta Manufacturers.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 25. — Preliminary steps have been taken to form a colossal combine of sewerpipe and terra cotta ware manufacturers of the United States, with a capital of $11,000,000. The proposed combine will be controlled by eastern capitalists. A secret meeting was held in this city last week and many of the preliminary arrangements were completed. Nineteen manufacturers signed the agreement and it is expected that the 31 others in the country will also sign. Another meeting is to be held shortly in a western city, and at that time it will probably be definitely known whether or not all the manufacturers will sign the agreement.

FIRST LADY GOVERNOR.

Miss Margaret Reeve of Idaho Has Been Acting In That Capacity.

BOISE, Oct. 25.—For 10 days a woman has been governor of Idaho, not as the result of election, but governor nevertheless, empowered with executive authority and exercising it. This woman is Miss Margaret Reeve, private secretary to Secretary of State Lewis. She acted during the temporary absence of the governor and most of the state officials, who had left signed documents in blank for her to use. Among other things Miss Reeve issued a requisition for the extradition to Montana of Dr. Veno, a notorious healer, arrested at Pocatello on a warrant sworn out at Butte.

YELLOW JACK.

Reduced Number of Cases at New Orleans---Other Points.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—The usual variation was shown in the yellow fever situation yesterday. Saturday there were 49 cases and seven deaths. At 7 o'clock last evening the new cases had only reached 31 and the deaths were three. Five of the new cases were reported in a bunch in Carrollton after dark. The deaths occurred during the morning. They were not of prominent people.

Among the new cases is that of Thomas R. Richardson, a member of the board of police commissioners, and who has from time to time been prominently identified with the cotton press business. Three cases of scarlet fever were reported last night.

Some Improvement.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 25.—The state board of health in its official statement last night reported eight new cases of yellow fever at Bay St. Louis, one at Edwards and one at New Albany. No new cases were reported from Clinton, Nitteyuma and Cayuga.

Mobile Has Eight New Cases.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 25.—There was a much larger number of new cases yesterday than usual, there being eight.

MEN ARE TO BE SOLD.

Will Be Put Up at Auction as Slaves of Old.

LEBANON, Ky., Oct. 25.—Thomas Hutt and William Reed were convicted of vagrancy at the last term of court and it was ordered that they be required to work. Both are chronic loafers. In accordance with the law Sheriff Young has advertised that he will on Nov. 1 sell the services of Hutt for nine months and of Reed for three months to the highest bidder. The purchaser of the services of these men may employ them as he chooses, but must feed and clothe them just the same as slaves were. It is 20 years since the vagrant law was enforced here and officers are determined to get rid of a shiftless element that will not work under any circumstances.

LIVED A DOUBLE LIFE.

Had a Wife In Ohio and One In New Jersey.

TRENTON, Oct. 25.—The death of Edward Ellis, a potter, has developed the fact that he had a wife living in East Liverpool, O., whom, it is said, he deserted in 1877.

Ellis was living with a woman in Trenton who was supposed to be his wife. Notice of the death reached the East Liverpool wife and she came to Trenton and took out letters of administration on the estate of Ellis, which included a house and furniture. One night last week the furniture was removed from the house and the detectives are looking for the woman whom Ellis has been living with in Trenton, they claiming that the furniture was removed by her.

ACTED LIKE A MANIAC.

German Who Had Been Drugged and Robbed Taken From a Train.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Jacob Pfam, German, aged 45, was taken from an Ontario and Western train here Saturday night because he acted like a maniac. Investigation shows that the man is on his way from Bismarck, N. D., to Odessa. The police believe that he had been drugged and robbed. Papers on the man show that he had made arrangements for sailing, but there was neither money nor a ticket on his person. He had a Western Union receipt for $86.

The trouble with us nowadays is, that we do not lead natural lives. The feminine portion of our society is especially culpable in this way. It is really a wonder that women are as healthy as they are. Very few women get any outdoor exercise. Very many get no exercise at all. Modes of dressing interfere with the proper muscular action and with the circulation of the blood. All the hygienic laws are broken. It is little wonder that nine women in ten are troubled with some derangement or irregularity in the action of the organs distinctly feminine. Neglect and wrong living will show themselves first in the most delicate organs of the whole body. With such weakness and sickness so prevalent, it is to be expected that the bearing of children would be fraught with dread and danger. It should not be so, of course. Nature never meant it to be so. The performance of the highest function of which a woman is capable should not be accompanied by pain. If perfectly natural living were the rule, it would not be so. As lives are lived, something else must be done. A remedy must be found. For over thirty years, Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. During that time he has treated thousands of women. He has found in his "Favorite Prescription" a never-failing specific for female complaints. It strengthens the whole body and when taken during gestation, shortens the period of labor and makes childbirth well-nigh painless. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child.

DIVED INTO THE RIVER

New York Central Passenger Train Plunges Into the Hudson.

TWENTY-EIGHT LIVES LOST.

Retaining Wall Had Been Undermined When the Engine Struck It—Engineer and Fireman Go to the Bottom With Their Engine as Did Several of the Coaches.

GARRISONS, N. Y., Oct. 25.—From the sleep that means refreshment and rest to the eternal sleep that knows no waking, plunged in the twinkling of an eye yesterday morning 28 souls, men, women and children. Into the slimy bed of the Hudson river a train, laden with slumbering humanity, ploughed, dragging through the waters the passengers. There was nothing to presage the terrible accident which so suddenly deprived these unfortunates of life.

The New York Central train left Buffalo Saturday night and had progressed for nearly nine-tenths of the distance toward its destination. The engineer and his fireman had just noted the gray dawn, breaking in the east and the light streak of red betoking the sun's appearance, when the great engine—a servant on the rails, a devil off—plunged into the depths of the river. Neither engineer or fireman will ever tell the story of that terrible moment, for with his hand upon the throttle, the engineer plunged with his engine to the river bottom and the fireman too, was at his post. Behind them came the express car, the combination car and the sleepers, and these piled on top of the engine.

It is known that it was a trifle foggy and that the track was not visible, but if there was any break in the lines of steel it must have been of very recent happening, for only an hour before there had passed over it a heavy passenger train, laden with human freight. Neither is an explanation ready. All is conjecture.

What seems to have happened is that underneath the tracks and ties the heavy retaining wall had given away and when the great weight of the engine struck the unsupported tracks it went crashing through the rest of the wall and toppled over into the river.

Miraculous Escape.

Then there happened what on the railroad at any other time would have caused disaster, but now proved a very blessing. As the train plunged over the embankment the coupling that held the last three of the six sleepers broke and they miraculously remained on the broken track. In that way 60 lives were saved.

Of eye witnesses there were none except the crew of a tugboat passing with tow. They saw the train with its light as it came flashing about the curves and then saw the greater part of it go into the river. Some of the cars floated and the tug, whistling for help, cast off its hawser and started to the rescue.

Victims Were Women and Children.

The day coach, which contained 18 or 20 passengers, most of them women and children, and smoker had gone down in the deep water and rescue was impossible. In the latter car the conditions must have been horrible. The car turned completely over and the passenger end of it was in deep water, while the baggage end stood up toward the surface. The men in that lower end must have fought like fiends for a brief period for the bodies, when taken out were a mass of wounds.

The closing scene of this tragedy was drawn around a common car that stood near the scene of the accident where nearly a score of badly mutilated bodies were lying in a long row, grewsome evidences of a disaster, the greatest that ever happened on this railroad.

Frank J. Degan's Experience.

Frank J. Degan, one of the few who escaped, said, "As near as I can judge there were 18 people in the day coach, most of them being women and childran, and nearly all were asleep. When the crash came the car gave a great lurch, and rolled over on its side. The water rushed in and almost instantly the lights went out. I knew we were in the river, and the car seemed to plough through the water for some time after it was submerged. The car was tilted over on one side and I managed to reach the fan light overhead and cling to it until help came.

"I heard people in the back part of the car groaning as if they were pinned fast. It was so dark that I could see no one and I think the passengers must have drowned like rats. After a while, it seemed an age, I heard people on top of the car and an ax crashed through the roof. Soon they had a hole cut in the roof and pulled me out through it. A man and boy (father and son) were also rescued in the same way, but I know of no other occupants of the coach escaping. The car at this time was floating, but fast filling with water and we were put ashore in a rowboat."

Manager Toucey was telegraphed for and on his arrival he wired the Chapman wrecking company at New York to bring their wrecking boat to raise the coaches. As soon as they arrived work commenced. In the meantime the coroner had arrived on the scene and as the coaches were hoisted on the river bank the dead were removed, numbered and placed in a car for identification. Fully 10,000 people visited the scene during the day.

HOTEL FIRE.

Three Persons Burned to Death and Seven Severely Injured.

KELLETTVILLE, Pa., Oct. 25.—Three persons were burned to death and seven more were severely injured in a fire that destroyed the Hotel Brooklyn here yesterday morning. The building was a 3-story one, roughly built of double boards and burned like tinder. When the fire was discovered there were 17 people asleep in the hotel. At that time the fire shut off all retreat from the rooms on the second and third floors. Six men on the second floor and five on the third saved themselves by jumping from the windows to the ground below, but there were none of these who escaped without severe burns or hurts. Those killed are:

PROFESSOR TUCKER, aged about 65 years, who traveled about the country giving stereopticon exhibitions, and is supposed to have come from Zwickley, near Pittsburg.

ANDREW SALSGIVER of Tionestab, a mail carrier, aged 21 years, and partially paralyzed.

MISS KATE MILLER of Kellettville, aged 19 years.

Mrs. William A. Kiser, a teacher in the Kellettville schools, was so badly burned about the face and body and so severely injured by jumping from the second story of the hotel that she may die.

What remained of the bodies of Tucker and Salsgiver were gathered together and were not enough to fill an ordinary cigar box.

WORK OF VIGILANTES.

Came Upon a Robber While in the Act of Stealing.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 25.—Louis Jestmore, of this city, was shot through the brain Saturday at Richards Station by a party of farmers composing a vigilance committee. Jestmore died from his injuries late in the day. The dead man was accompanied by his son and a man named Oliver Shambo, and they were in a wagon. The farmers claim that the Jestmore party was in the act of stealing potatoes and corn from the farm of a Mr. Bush when the shooting took place, and that Jestmore attacked them with a dray stake.

THE Bryan democrats are experiencing difficulty in even attempting to control the populists of Indiana who are training with N. H. Motsinger.

THE subject of postal savings banks is being discussed throughout the country. The Chicago Record especially has taken a strong stand favoring the establishment of such an institution in this country.

TAMMANY is making a tremendous fight for supremacy in Greater New York and unless the better elements are combined in opposition will succeed. There ought to be a sufficient number of voters in the great metropolis, having the proper sense of good goverment to forever keep such an organization in the background.

ANOTHER $100,000 of the state debt will be paid this week. This will make a total of $720,000 paid on the state debt so far during the fiscal year, and none of the bonds taken up were due but were paid under the optional clause in them. The state auditor is confident that $1,000,000 can be paid on the state debt next year. The financial interests of the state were never in better hands.

THE report recently made by the state librarian, Prof. W. E. Henry, is conclusive that he expects to make the library of much more practical benefit than it ever has been. His report, doubtless, makes known to the board a number of facts with which they were unacquainted. Prof. Henry has introduced order and system into the library which had been sadly neglected for years. The bibliography of Indiana for which considerable material has already been collected will most certainly prove of great historical value to the state.

Another Pioneer Gone.

We are called upon to note the passing away of another one of our most valued residents in the person of Miss Mary Mooney who passed to another and better world at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, October 24, 1897, at her home from the effects of an internal abscess, with which she has been aflicted for many months. Deceased was a daughter of James Mooney and was born on the farm now owned by Henry C Beyers, at Rockford, July 2, 1816, making her age eighty-one years, three months and twenty-one days at the time of her death. She was a devoted member of the M. E. church since her young womanhood days. She was as near a model of perfection as any one ever known here. She became a resident of Seymour soon after the city was laid out and has resided here since. She was one of our most industrious ladies and died as she had lived without a known enemy. It is safe to say she had cared for and raised more orphan children than any lady in the county. The county has but one older native born citizen than she. Her parents and relatives were among the county's most esteemed people. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow forenoon from the M. E church. Interment in the city cemetery on the family lot. Religious services by Rev. J. M. Baxter. All are invited.

There is a Class of People.

Conductor Ed. Jackson, of the B. & O. S. W. branch, spent Sunday with his family here.

Engineer Charles Ewing, of the Bedford branch, is spending today with his family here.

The general officers of the B. & O. S. W. returned this morning to Cincinnati from a tour of inspection west.

Conductor James W. Cole and wife and Mrs. Grant Cole have gone to Evansville to visit friends and relatives.

The management of the Baltimore & Ohio southwestern is taking steps to bring its equipment up the standard of the Baltimore & Ohio proper. During the depressed times the company let its rolling stock run down, and with better earnings the power and cars are to undergo general repairs.

Competing lines have already found that in General Passenger Agent McCarty, of the Baltimore & Ohio southwesten lines, they will have some keen competition if it requires a little shading of rates.

It seems to be the understanding that when the Evansville & Richmond is so far repaired as to run trains over it the road will be operated in the interest of the Pennsylvania.—Journal.

Conductor Gatch Wheaton, late of B. & O. S. W., has been employed to take charge of the construction train on the E. & R. and he will enter on his duty Wednesday of this week. Mr. Wheaton is a safe and careful man and we are pleased to note his good luck.

What the Vote Does Show.

The Brownstown Banner says "That the voters of Jackson county decide that Brownstown should remain the seat of justice." Isay that's a mistake, but in fact what do they say? They declare by their votes by over 900 majority that Brownstown should not remain the seat of justice.

Because you carried the election by 41 or 42 per cent does not in the least imply that the voters of Jackson county desire no change in the county seat The will of the people is the voice of the people, and the voice of the people is the majority of that people.

VERNON.

THE COLOR ESCORT.

ONE OF THE MOST IMPRESSIVE OF ALL MILITARY OBSERVANCES.

Ceremony In Honor of the Stars and Stripes That Touches the Patriotic Chord. The Respect For the Flag Which Is Shown by Men, Women and Children.

There is nothing that more conduces to make a good, true and loyal soldier than to inculcate in him love and respect for the flag he has sworn to uphold and defend. To bring about this end, there are certain ceremonies in the army that are intended to impress the wearers of the uniform with the dignity of the flag. One of these ceremonies is called the "escort to the color," and it is the finest and most impressive of all military observances. Every regiment carries two flags—one national, the other the regimental, which carries the number and name of the regiment. These flags are kept at the residential quarters of the colonel or at his office, where they are zealously cared for. It is when the regiment parades, and these flags are to be brought to the troops, that the escort to the color is carried out.

When the regiment has formed line on the parade, the colonel details a company to bring the colors and escort them to their place in the line. The company marches in column of platoons, headed by the band, which does not play as the march down the front of the line is made. The two color sergeants, old and faithful soldiers appointed to these desired places by reason of long service and military bearing, march between the two platoons. Upon arriving in front of the building where the flags are kept line is formed, the band standing on the right of the escort.

The first lieutenant, with drawn sword, followed by the two color sergeants, who are followed in turn by a sergeant armed with a rifle, enters the building and receives the flags. When the color bearers appear, followed by the lieutenant and the sergeant, they halt at the entrance and form line, facing the escort. Arms are presented, and the field music (the trumpeters) sound a thrilling call named "To the color," during the sound of which all stand motionless, with arms at the present. After the sounding of the color has ended arms are brought to the order, and then column of platoons is reformed, the two color sergeants taking places between the two platoons, and thus guarded, the march is taken up, the band playing a spirited air.

Around the shady main avenue of the post marches the escort, each soldier erect and appearing as if he felt that the flags were intrusted to him alone instead of to the company of which he forms so small a part. How each man steps out to the strains of the march, probably Sousa's inspiring "Stars and Stripes Forever." Down past the officers' quarters, the porches of which are filled with the wives, daughters and sweethearts of the officers parading, goes the escort.

The respect for the flag is not confined to the wearers of the army blue, for as the escort passes each house these true and loyal women cease their talk and stand quietly till the flag has passed, when the interesting discussion or the latest news is resumed. Past a group of enlisted men not required to attend the parade marches the escort. Each man stands "attention," and removes his cap. A group of small boys at play is next passed. Every one, a true soldier's son, stands, cap in hand, till Old Glory has passed. I have seen this same small boy grow up, pass through the "Point" and command one of the platoons in the escort after graduation and maybe in the same company commanded by his father. This march around the post has at last brought the escort opposite the right of the line of paraded troops, when the colonel commands attention, and down the line passes the glittering guard.

On reaching a point in the front of the center of the paraded command the escort forms line facing the regiment, the two color sergeants marching to the front till 12 paces in front of the colonel and his staff. Arms are then presented to the flags by command of the colonel, and while the trumpeters again sound "to the color" the flags are allowed to fly to the breeze, the lances are lowered in acknowledgment of the "present," and now the moment is one to fill the soul of every lover of his country with a thrill that is indescribable. The silk and tasseled flags, caught by the rays of the sun, shine and glisten in front of the solid ranks of blue and gold uniforms massed across the deep green sward of the parade ground—a picture difficult for any pen to portray.

After the sounding of the color the two sergeants march to their places in the parade, and the escorting company, having faithfully carried out its sacred duty, now wheels into column of platoons and, headed by the band with inspiring music, proceeds on down the line and around in the rear of the regiment, whence, without music, it goes to its proper place in the line, and the formal dress parade is begun. After parade the color guard escorts the flags to the place where they are preserved.—Lieutenant B. W. Atkinson, U. S. A. in St. Nicholas.

Too Much Salt.

The New York Journal of Hygiene says that many people eat altogether too much salt. The result is that the skin and kidneys are excessively taxed to get rid of the salt, and both are injured by it Few people have healthy skins, and it is believed that many cases of derangement of the kidneys are due to the salt habit.

The Cause of Confusion.

"Oh, I don't know. When you aren't big enough to see over them, there isn't much difference." —Chicago Journal.

PAYING OFF THE STATE DEBT.

Walter Jameson Returns to His Home After Years of Absence and Finds His Wife Has Remarried—Alleged Dynamiters Arrested — Attempt to Assassinate an Editor.

OAKLANDON, Ind., Oct. 25.—Three men were killed here yesterday while driving over the railroad crossing. They were residents of Mohawk, Hancock county. Their names are William Tuttle, Joseph Tuttle and Washington Kirby. The crossing here is in a deep cut and on both sides the road are houses making it impossible to see a train coming. Kirby was thrown 25 feet and other two were found lying on the pilot when the train was stopped. All three were instantly killed. Their wagon was demolished, but the horses escaped injury.

WIFE HAD MARRIED AGAIN.

Walter Jameson Returns to His Home After Years of Absence.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 25.—Several years ago Walter Jameson left the city because he was out of work and hard up. His wife remained behind. After waiting for years and hearing nothing from him, Mrs. Jameson concluded he was dead. She then married George Babcock. Saturday Jameson returned here to see his wife, and he found himself supplanted by another. He is now a rich man and still loves her. She prefers Jameson to Babcock and an effort will be made to get a legal separation through the courts, there having been no intent on the part of the woman to commit bigamy. Babcock is the most cast down of the three.

REDUCING THE STATE DEBT.

Finance Board Takes Up $100,000 In Bonds.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 25. — The state finance board today took up $100,000 of 3½ per cent bonds in the hands of the German Savings bank of New York. This makes a total of $720,000 paid upon the state debt during the fiscal year. Of the bonds taken up this year none were due, but were redeemed under the optional clause, thus reducing the interest account about $2,000 per month.

Attempt to Assassinate an Editor.

DECATUR, Ind., Oct. 25.—An attempt was made to assassinate Frank Gessinger, local editor of the Daily Journal, Saturday night. While he was standing in front of his office a youth named Brittson came up and shot Gessinger, the bullet taking effect in his right side. The cause of the shooting is supposed to be jealousy. The would-be murderer fled. There is considerable excitement over the affair.

Preferred Death to Imprisonment.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Oct. 25.—James Tomlin, convicted and sentenced to prison for seven years in 1893 for assault with intent to commit murder, and who was paroled last April by Governor Mount, was ordered recommitted Saturday afternoon on the charge of intemperance. When arrested Tomlin begged piteously for Deputy Sheriff McDougall's revolver that he might commit suicide.

Serious Cutting Affray.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 25.—A desperate cutting affray occurred in a garden attached to Rosasco's saloon in this city. Six men were more or less seriously injured, one having his upper lip nearly severed, besides long gashes cut in either leg from the hip to the knee. The affray was the result of a drunken brawl. All were Italians.

Quarantine Raised.

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Oct. 25.—The city schools which have been closed since Oct. 6 on account of scarlet fever opened again this morning. Dr. J. H. Spurrier, health officer, says there is no further danger. Families in which the disease has appeared will be quarantined until the attending physicians say all danger has passed.

Indicted the Colored Man.

GREENWOOD, Ind., Oct. 25.—Richard Glass and Kirt Babbitt have been arrested charged with dynamiting Murphy's saloon. It is said that Glass has confessed and says he was hired to blow up the building. Glass has served a term in the penitentiary.

BRAZIL, Ind., Oct. 25.—Much gratification is felt here over the miners deciding at their meeting Saturday afternoon not to strike. They decided not to ask for a 4-cent increase, but insist upon the check system being adopted.

LARGE FORTUNE.

Illinois People Fall Heir to $1,000,000 in England.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Oct. 25.—The Capps family, residing in Illopolis. Springfield, Rivertown, Vandalia and Mount Pulaski, in this state, has just come into an inheritance of between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 through the death of a brother, named Thomas Capps in London, England, on Sept. 19, 1897.

Among the beneficeries of Thomas Capps are Charles R. Capps and J. M. Capps of this city and A. S. Capps of Rivertown.

The deceased was formerly in the wholesale cloth trade, having retired to a country seat in 1875 He was 90 years old at the time of his death.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES.

Porte Demands the Recall of Two From the Province of Aleppo.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 25.—The porte has demanded the recall of two American missionaries from the province af Aleppo on the pretext that their mission for the distribution of relief is likely to cause disturbances. The United States legation has ignored the demand and will continue to do so until definite charges are made, being convinced that the demand is merely the first step to a general one asking for the recall of all missionaries.

Floods In Italy.

ROME, Oct. 25.—The river Tronto in central Italy, which enters the Adriatic east of Ascoli, has overflowed, flooding the plain of Acoli. At Chiaravalle a bridge has been swept away, sevaral persons have been drowned at Forli, and near Mendola a house collapsed, burying nine persons in the ruins.

Feared a Mob.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 25.—There was considerable excitement here last night especially at the county jail, over a report that seemed correct that a mob was forming at Xenia to come here last night to lynch William Carter, the negro ravisher now in jail here.

Almost Entirely Recovered.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A private cablegram from Paris received yesterday states that Major Moses P. Handy has almost entirely recovered from his recent illness and is now out of danger. He will sail for America next Saturday.

Vegetable Dropsy.

Some experiments at Cornell university have aroused much interest on account of the development of what appears to be a form of plant dropsy. Tomatoes grown in the warm, moist air of the forcing houses had leaves that were swollen and semitransparent. The swelling continued until the veins of the leaves burst and considerable liquid flowed out. This was caused by too much water at the roots and an over supply in the air. The leaves were not able to give off the water supplied from the roots and stalks, and the congested condition of the leaves and subsequent bursting of the veins was a true type of a dropsical condition.—New York

Made Him Propose.

The diffident young man wanted to propose to his girl, but for the life of him he did not know how to go about it. He read books on the subject and sought information from men who had experience, and while the theories were admirable in every instance he found that the practice thereof was a different thing. He was walking with her one evening, thinking over these things, when her shoe became untied.

She stuck out her pretty little foot, with a smile, and looked down at it. He fell on his knees to tie the lace. Then he walked on with her. The shoe became untied again. The third time it happened he was ready as before.

"See if you can't tie a knot that won't come undone," she said, as he worked away at it.

He looked up at her tenderly.

"If I can't, I know a man who can," he said.

"Do you want him to tie it?" she asked coquettishly.

"Yes," he replied.

She jerked her foot away. He smiled to himself.

"It's the parson," he said. And he rose to his feet and finished the proposal.—Strand Magazine.

LIFE!

Is sometimes hanging on the balance when the physician writes a prescription.

He desires certain definite results from the remedies he orders. If the drugs supplied are scant in in purity or strength, who shall answer for results?

These Days

It requires more than a general knowledge of drugs to rightly fill prescriptions. Remedies are multiplying, new preparations are constantly coming out. The prescription must be put in competent hands or some of the remedies will be ruined in the compounding.

Ample stock, wide experience and scientific service are required

Seymour REPUBLICAN.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; nor a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

GRAPES AND THE APPENDIX.

The Little Seeds Are Not So Dangerous as Has Been Claimed.

Things have been said about the baneful and delicious juice of the grape ever since the olden time when Noah found out about it and came thereby to grief, but even before that men ate grapes, and only within the last decade have they been talked to about that. It is only since surgeons began to make money hunting for grape seeds in the vermiform appendix that people have been afraid to eat grapes and to eat them straight.

It now appears that in all the thousands of cases famous, and possibly in some cases infamous, in which this new fashioned surgical operation has been performed there is not one case in which a grape seed or any other little bullet shaped thing has been found in the vermiform appendix. The whole interior of the appendix is only big enough to admit a medium sized darning needle. Nobody knows what it is there for, but it must have been useful at some time. It is a case of the survival of the unfit, like the wisdom teeth, which are of so little use to most people, and the tonsils, which cause so much trouble now and then.

The tonsils and the appendix are both unused parts of the body and peculiarly liable to disease because they are not strengthened by use. If inflammation attacks them, they are unable to resist. Thus many diseases which have been ascribed to peritonitis or colic or a mysterious providence of some kind have been due to the diseased condition of this little useless organ of the human system, and if the trouble had been discovered in time the appendix could have been removed, and all would have been well.

The remedy, therefore, is not in avoiding grape seeds, which do not cause the trouble, but in keeping as well and as strong as possible, and in case of sudden illness calling a reliable doctor, who will know what the matter is. Somebody once said that most people use a doctor to enable them to sin against the laws of nature with impunity. But that is a bad use for him.—Washington Times.

Bagpipes In New Guinea.

Mr. Angus MacKenzie, an old miner well known as a prospector in northern Queensland, Australia, recently arrived from New Guinea with a large quantity of gold and thinks there is a great advantage in being a Scotchman. When he left for New Guinea, he took bagpipes with him, and to their agency he attributes much of the luck which fell to his lot while prospecting for gold. He said that the natives would do anything for him, providing he played the pipes to them at night. They looked after him and his effects and acted as porters without other pay than the music of the pipes. They took him over new country and showed him where heavy gold could be obtained. It is possible that intending prospectors in New Guinea might lay out their money to worse advantage than in the purchase of bagpipes. In any case, Mr. MacKenzie regards the pipes as the best and most judicious investment he ever made.—New York Sun.

November Ladies' Home Journal.

"The First Thanksgiving Dinner," Lilian Bell's First Days in London" and "When Dr. Whitman Added Three Stars to Our Flag" are among the leading features of the November Ladies' Home Journal. The first tells of the most historically important dinner in America, at which Indian chiefs were guests, and at which oysters were first eaten by white men. Miss Bell finds much in London to inspire her pen to its smartest activity. Dr. Whitman's service to the United States in saving Oregon, Washington and Idaho from the British are acknowledged in an article which follows the first women across the continent, and the first whites across the Rocky Mountains. Magician Kellar writes on "How I Do My Tricks," showing how simple is their solution when it is known.

The second article on "Inside of a Hundred Homes" is more attractive and rich in suggestion on furnishing and fitting up a home than was the excellent inaugural one of the series. It presents fifteen views. Edward W. Bok advises young married folks against living in a hotel or boarding house.

Pianists will be delighted with the musical feature, "Poet's Dream Waltzes" by Reginald de Koven author of "Robin Hood," etc. The November Journal is interesting, instructive and practical By the Curtis Publishing Company Philadelphia. One dollar per year; ten cents per copy.

PRAYING BICYCLES.

Japanese Attach Prayer Wheels to the Hubs of Their Machines.

The bicycle is now employed to aid the pious Buddhist in praying with greater ease, but yet, as he hopes, with great effect. It is from the ingenious and enterprising country of Japan that this new departure is reported.

The Buddhist has always done his praying with the assistance of a wheel. The prayers are placed inside the wheel, which turns round, following the direction of the sun, and delivers up to heaven the prayers of the owner, or of all whose thoughts are fixed upon it. Some enormous wheels are capable of praying for thousands of people. This mode of worship may seem somewhat irresponsible to western people, but the Buddhist, who is a subtle reasoner, would be able to explain why it is satisfactory.

In various parts of the vast territory in which the Buddhist faith is held different motive powers are used in these prayer wheels. Some humble persons turn the wheel by hand, but not if they can help it. On the hills of Tibet, a great stronghold of pure Buddhism, the wheels are usually so built that the wind turns them. In other places they are moved by water power.

But it is obvious that wind must fail occasionally and that this may happen when the Buddhist is particularly in need of copious prayer. Water power, too, is often lacking.

So the ingenious Jap now attaches a small prayer wheel to the hub of his bicycle, and when he takes a ride he combines worship with recreation. By giving a glance at his pedometer he can tell just how much praying he has done. He can also keep an accurate daily record, which will enable him to tell after a number of years just how much prayer stands to his credit. In this way Buddhism seems to have given a zest to bicycling which no other religion can supply.—New York Journal.

His Part In the Affair.

A very dejected looking man stood in the dignified presence of the police judge.

"You are charged with being drunk and disorderly," said the judge with great solemnity. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"I don't know, your honor," responded the submissive prisoner. "I suppose I am."

"Am?" queried the judge a little less solemnly.

The prisoner rubbed his eyes as if to see more clearly.

"No, your honor," he said. "Not am, but was."

"Was what?"

"Was drunk, I suppose, your honor."

"You've never been here before, have you?"

"No, your honor."

"Have you any explanation to offer for your unseemly conduct?"

"Not that I can recall at this moment, your honor," and the prisoner rubbed his head as if to start the circulation of his memory once more.

"I am informed," suggested the judge in a kindly tone, for he had a weakness that way himself, "that you were fishing."

This suggestion appeared to be what the prisoner needed.

"Thanks, your honor," said he with a brightening face, "but I wasn't fishing."

"No?" and the erstwhile kindness of the judge's manner grew cold.

"No, your honor, I was cutting bait. The Lord only knows the condition of the man who did the fishing. I left him speechless under a tree two hours before I met the policeman."

The case was continued until a searching party returned.—New York Sun.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptable for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other disease.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney, and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need any medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. THE CRATER OF RAINIER.

Experiences of a Night on the Summit of the Weird Mountain.

Throwing off the life line, which had become almost an intolerable burden, I scaled the pile of bare rocks and gained the rim of the crater. The great bowl within was deeply filled with snow, but the black circle forming its rim could be distinctly traced. Descending the inner slope for about 100 feet, I found a place where steam was issuing from a crevice in the rocks and warmed my benumbed fingers. Soon my companions joined me, and we took refuge in one of the many caverns that the heat of the rocks and of the escaping steam had melted in the lower portion of the snow and ice partially filling the crater. In these weird caverns one may descend far beyond the light of day. The white vapors drifting silently through the dimly lighted passages assume grotesque shapes and suggest to the imaginative visitor that spirits of the time when Pluto's reign was supreme there make their homes.

By melting snow in our tin cups over the cracks from which steam was issuing we soon had water enough with which to prepare tea. In the absence of sugar and cream a little alcohol from the supply brought for fuel was added to each cup and proved a welcome stimulant. Making ourselves as comfortable as possible under the circumstances, we passed the night in the cavern of ice. There were no ledges broad enough to lie down on, and we were forced to stand or crouch against the hot rocks all night. The floor of our cavern sloped steeply and led down to an ugly opening of unknown depth between the descending roof of ice and the rocks. To guard against accidents, the life line was stretched across the cavern and made fast to crags. This proved a wise precaution, as we were able during the night to walk up and down with the rope in our hands and avoid the stiffness and discomfort that come from remaining long in one position.—Israel C. Russell in Scribner's.

UNNECESSARY HEROISM.

A Connecticut Man's Experience With a Substitute Bathtub.

One of the most ridiculous situations which at the time bring the coldest sweat out on a man's brow and ever after remain with him as a constant source of mirth occurred to a Shelton merchant. He thought he would take a bath, and as his flat is minus one of the chief requisites for the job—a bathtub—he extemporized one out of a small washtub and enjoyed a cooling ablution.

He had just concluded and stepped from the tub for the towel, when suddenly the top hoop of the tub burst with a sharp report, and the man saw to his horror that the whole contents of the tub would soon be flooding the floor. At the same moment he thought of the store beneath and the amount of damage the water would do as it ran down through the ceiling. He is a man of quick thought, and in a moment he did the only thing possible—threw himself down beside the tub and, clasping his arms around it, held the already fast swelling staves together. He was successful in keeping the water in—but what a situation! He dared not yell, for he was hardly in a condition to receive callers, especially as he knew that all in the block at the time were of the gentler sex, and he realized at once that the only thing left for him was to stay in that position until the return of his wife, who was out on a shopping expedition.

Like the boy who saved Holland, he manfully remained in his most uncomfortable position until relief in the shape of his wife appeared. Then, to cap the climax, when he asked her to get a rope or any old thing to tie about the tub, she, after a long fit of uncontrollable laughter, asked him why he didn't carry tub and contents out to the sink room and pour out the water. With a look that froze the smile on her face he did as she said and without a word donned his clothing and wandered out into the cold, unfeeling world, a crushed and humiliated man.—Ansonia Sentinel

Saratoga Women.

The Woman's Association For Greater Saratoga is one of the largest clubs of women in the country, with the smallest annual dues. It has 1,600 members, and the dues are 10 cents a year.

Any woman in Saratoga who will and can is asked to join and help the work along, this all for the benefit of the Greater Saratoga. The Greater Saratoga is to include all the region of the 50 springs in the valley, and the ultimate object of the women is to have the state of New York buy all these springs and to have them all free.

The annual dues are all put aside for this purpose, but every year they have one or two large entertainments at which they raise generous sums of money, and these they give for any needed improvement around Saratoga. Recently they contributed $70 for bicycle paths. Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth, president of the Post Parliament club of New York, is president of the association.—Woman's Journal

PROTEST HANDED WOODFORD.

Uncle Sam Warned About Filibustering, General Weyler.

MADRID, Oct. 25.—A government note protesting against filibustering was handed to United States Minister Woodford today.

There is no doubt that the government's reply represents the deep feeling of the nation. The note dwells at length on filiburtering and "other material and moral assistance which has chiefly contributed to the rise and duration of the rebellion and which in turn has damaged American interests."

It clearly intimates that Spain cannot continue the "forbearance shown by Senor Canovas Del Castillo and the duke of Tetuan during the past two years" and she now calls upon the American government to "fullfill more strictly in the future the rules and duties of international law," because "the success of the new home rule policy and the speedy pacification of Cuba chiefly depend upon the conduct of the United States."

El Imparcial pubishes a cablegram from Key West asserting that there is a strong party in Cuba "fiercely opposed to Marshal Blanco and a new regime" and that it is feared his task will be very difficult.

According to dispatch from Havana Lieutenant General Weyler has ordered the abandonment of demonstrations that were being prepared there in his favor and against the government.

Mrs. Woodford, the wife of the United States minister, has arrived here. General Woodford has not yet taken an official residence, but will continue to occupy apartments at the Hotel De Rome.

London Standard's Views.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Standard says of Spain's note to Woodford: "If, as we have difficulty to believe, Spain has threatened to search suspected vessels in Cuban waters in case filibustering continues, it is quite certain that Senor De Lome will be told that Spain would do so at her own peril.

"It is highly improbable that the United States will declare war with Spain, but it may recognize the Cubans as belligerents.

"The American navy, though of modest dimensions, is of excellent quality, and could be increased indefinitely, whereas the Spanish ships in the West Indies are in a most unsatisfactory condition and even in the important matter of speed fall far short of modern requirements. Such a war would inevitably mean the loss of Cuba.

"We believe it is the idlest of dreams for Spain to hope for assistance from any European power. No doubt the United States would manage to leave with Spain the responsibility of declaring war, and Europe has too many burning questions of its own in Europe, Africa and Asia to saddle itself gratuitously with another of the new world."

TO MURDER THE SHERIFF.

Conspiracy Said to Have Been Unearthed to Avenge Lattimer Shooting.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 25.—An alleged conspiracy to murder Sheriff Martin, who led the deputies who fired upon and killed a score of strikers at Lattimer on Sept. 10, has been discovered by the arrest of John Seplak, who was wounded in the riot. The complainant was the sheriff's son William, who says he overheard Seplak threaten to kill his father. On Seplak was found a razor wrapped in a printed circular describing the shooting and calling for vengeance. From the talk overheard it is said that the prisoner is one of a gang of 15 detailed by the foreigners to murder the sheriff. He denies the charge.

FROM DAWSON CITY

Arrival of the Steamer Humbolt at Seattle, Wash.

WHAT THE PASSENGERS SAY.

Hardships Encountered In Reaching St. Michael From the Gold Fields—Circle City the Largest Log Cabin Town In the World—Shortage of Provisions—Immense Amount of Gold at Dawson City.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 25.—The steamer Humbolt has arrived here with five men from Dawson City, leaving there Sept. 3 and three men from Minonk and other points on the Yukon. They say no gold will come out this fall as this steamer has taken the last of those who have come down the Yukon. The river is already frozen hard and the boats are laid up for the winter.

The Humbolt left St. Michaels Oct. 3. The five men from Dawson are John F. Miller and Frank E. Sims of this city; C. A. Harrison of Atchison, Kan.; William Dubel, New Jersey, and William Braund of Black Diamond, Wash. They were passengers on the river steamer Margaret. When they found the mouth of the river blocked with ice the resolved to come overland at all hazards. For seven days they crept forward through terrible wind and snowstorms. Some of them fell in their tracks and had to be helped by their stronger companions. They crossed the river covered with thin ice by laying down and pushing their pack before them, and at night they sought shelter from the storm by huddling in an Eskimo tent or lying unprotected from the biting wind save by blankets. Of the 5,000 or 6,000 people in Dawson and vicinity at least 1,000 will be obliged to flee from impending starvation.

One Way of Relief.

Up to Sept. 3, when the Miller party left Dawson, new arrivals numbered from three to 20 people daily, and there is no doubt that that ratio will be continued all winter. Three hundred men were working in the gulches and in the hills were several prospectors, all of whom knew nothing of the shortage and were depending on the company stores for provisions. Five hundred or 1,000 could winter at Circle City, 100 miles below Dawson and draw their supplies by dog train from Fort Yukon. Circle City has 500 houses and is said to be the largest log cabin town in the world.

"Our leaving," says Sims, "was the beginning of a stampede for grub. Transportation companies at St. Michaels and Fort Yukon claim the liquor traffic has no appreciable effect on the supply of provisions. Not more than 30 tons of liquor, they say, has gone into the country."

With the blockrde of Yukon, every possibility vanishes of treasures by the steamer Portland. No gold will come out this year.

There is any amount of gold at Dawson. It is not unusual to see horses loaded with dust. But the mines are owned by men who know their value. "One sees it on every hand," the returning miners say, "It seems plentiful, but you must remember, it is more plentiful in the United States treasury and is just as hard to get. People who flock to the mines expecting to pick up gold in the grass roots, do not realize what they are up against.

There is no doubt that a large amount of treasure will come from the Yukon basin next year, if the miners can get enough to eat to continue mining during the winter Gold sent out early this year will not be a circumstance to next spring's output of the sluice boxes.

Mr. Miller says nothing of considerable value has been found this summer. There is not an inch of ground unstaked on the Klondike.

ANOTHER TRUST FORMING.

This Time It Is the Sewerpipe and Terra Cotta Manufacturers.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 25.—Preliminary steps have been taken to form a colossal combine of sewerpipe and terra cotta ware manufacturers of the United States, with a capital of $11,000,000. The proposed combine will be controlled by eastern capitalists. A secret meeting was held in this city last week and many of the preliminary arrangements were completed. Nineteen manufacturers signed the agreement and it is expected that the 31 others in the country will also sign. Another meeting is to be held shortly in a western city, and at that time it will probably be definitely known whether or not all the manufacturers will sign the agreement.

FIRST LADY GOVERNOR.

Miss Margaret Reeve of Idaho Has Been Acting In That Capacity.

BOISE, Oct. 25.—For 10 days a woman has been governor of Idaho, not as the result of election, but governor nevertheless, empowered with executive authority and exercising it. This woman is Miss Margaret Reeve, private secretary to Secretary of State Lewis. She acted during the temporary absence of the governor and most of the state officials, who had left signed documents in blank for her to use. Among other things Miss Reeve issued a requisition for the extradition to Montana of Dr. Veno, a notorious healer, arrested at Pocatello on a warrant sworn out at Butte.

Death of C. F. Clay.

YELLOW JACK.

Reduced Number of Cases at New Orleans---Other Points.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—The usual variation was shown in the yellow fever situation yesterday. Saturday there were 49 cases and seven deaths. At 7 o'clock last evening the new cases had only reached 31 and the deaths were three. Five of the new cases were reported in a bunch in Carrollton after dark. The deaths occurred during the morning. They were not of prominent people.

Among the new cases is that of Thomas R. Richardson, a member of the board of police commissioners, and who has from time to time been prominently identified with the cotton press business. Three cases of scarlet fever were reported last night.

MEN ARE TO BE SOLD.

Will Be Put Up at Auction as Slaves of Old.

LEBANON, Ky., Oct. 25.—Thomas Hutt and William Reed were convicted of vagrancy at the last term of court and it was ordered that they be required to work. Both are chronic loafers. In accordance with the law Sheriff Young has advertised that he will on Nov. 1 sell the services of Hutt for nine months and of Reed for three months to the highest bidder. The purchaser of the services of these men may employ them as he chooses, but must feed and clothe them just the same as slaves were. It is 20 years since the vagrant law was enforced here and officers are determined to get rid of a shiftless element that will not work under any circumstances.

LIVED A DOUBLE LIFE.

Had a Wife In Ohio and One In New Jersey.

TRENTON, Oct. 25.—The death of Edward Ellis, a potter, has developed the fact that he had a wife living in East Liverpool, O., whom, it is said, he deserted in 1877.

Ellis was living with a woman in Trenton who was supposed to be his wife. Notice of the death reached the East Liverpool wife and she came to Trenton and took out letters of administration on the estate of Ellis, which included a house and furniture. One night last week the furniture was removed from the house and the detectives are looking for the woman whom Ellis has been living with in Trenton, they claiming that the furniture was removed by her.

ACTED LIKE A MANIAC.

German Who Had Been Drugged and Robbed Taken From a Train.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Jacob Pfam, German, aged 45, was taken from an Ontario and Western train here Saturday night because he acted like a maniac. Investigation shows that the man is on his way from Bismarck, N. D., to Odessa. The police believe that he had been drugged and robbed. Papers on the man show that he had made arrangements for sailing, but there was neither money nor a ticket on his person. He had a Western Union receipt for $86.

The trouble with us nowadays is, that we do not lead natural lives. The feminine portion of our society is especially culpable in this way. It is really a wonder that women are as healthy as they are. Very few women get any outdoor exercise. Very many get no exercise at all. Modes of dressing interfere with the proper muscular action and with the circulation of the blood. All the hygienic laws are broken. It is little wonder that nine women in ten are troubled with some derangement or irregularity in the action of the organs distinctly feminine. Neglect and wrong living will show themselves first in the most delicate organs of the whole body. With such weakness and sickness so prevalent, it is to be expected that the bearing of children would be fraught with dread and danger. It should not be so, of course. Nature never meant it to be so. The performance of the highest function of which a woman is capable should not be accompanied by pain. If perfectly natural living were the rule, it would not be so. As lives are lived, something else must be done. A remedy must be found. For over thirty years, Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. During that time he has treated thousands of women. He has found in his "Favorite Prescription" a never-failing specific for female complaints. It strengthens the whole body and when taken during gestation, shortens the period of labor and makes childbirth well-nigh painless. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child.

DIVED INTO THE RIVER

New York Central Passenger Train Plunges Into the Hudson.

TWENTY-EIGHT LIVES LOST.

Retaining Wall Had Been Undermined When the Engine Struck It—Engineer and Fireman Go to the Bottom With Their Engine as Did Several of the Coaches.

GARRISONS, N. Y., Oct. 25.—From the sleep that means refreshment and rest to the eternal sleep that knows no waking, plunged in the twinkling of an eye yesterday morning 28 souls, men, women and children. Into the slimy bed of the Hudson river a train, laden with slumbering humanity, ploughed, dragging through the waters the passengers. There was nothing to presage the terrible accident which so suddenly deprived these unfortunates of life.

The New York Central train left Buffalo Saturday night and had progressed for nearly nine-tenths of the distance toward its destination. The engineer and his fireman had just noted the gray dawn, breaking in the east and the light streak of red betoking the sun's appearance, when the great engine—a servant on the rails, a devil off—plunged into the depths of the river. Neither engineer or fireman will ever tell the story of that terrible moment, for with his hand upon the throttle, the engineer plunged with his engine to the river bottom and the fireman too, was at his post. Behind them came the express car, the combination car and the sleepers, and these piled on top of the engine.

It is known that it was a trifle foggy and that the track was not visible, but if there was any break in the lines of steel it must have been of very recent happening, for only an hour before there had passed over it a heavy passenger train, laden with human freight. Neither is an explanation ready. All is conjecture.

What seems to have happened is that underneath the tracks and ties the heavy retaining wall had given away and when the great weight of the engine struck the unsupported tracks it went crashing through the rest of the wall and toppled over into the river.

Miraculous Escape.

Then there happened what on the railroad at any other time would have caused disaster, but now proved a very blessing. As the train plunged over the embankment the coupling that held the last three of the six sleepers broke and they miraculously remained on the broken track. In that way 60 lives were saved.

Of eye witnesses there were none except the crew of a tugboat passing with tow. They saw the train with its light as it came flashing about the curves and then saw the greater part of it go into the river. Some of the cars floated and the tug, whistling for help, cast off its hawser and started to the rescue.

Victims Were Women and Children.

The day coach, which contained 18 or 20 passengers, most of them women and children, and smoker had gone down in the deep water and rescue was impossible. In the latter car the conditions must have been horrible. The car turned completely over and the passenger end of it was in deep water, while the baggage end stood up toward the surface. The men in that lower end must have fought like fiends for a brief period for the bodies, when taken out were a mass of wounds.

The closing scene of this tragedy was drawn around a common car that stood near the scene of the accident where nearly a score of badly mutilated bodies were lying in a long row, grewsome evidences of a disaster, the greatest that ever happened on this railroad.

Frank J. Degan's Experience.

Frank J. Degan, one of the few who escaped, said, "As near as I can judge there were 18 people in the day coach, most of them being women and childran, and nearly all were asleep. When the crash came the car gave a great lurch, and rolled over on its side. The water rushed in and almost instantly the lights went out. I knew we were in the river, and the car seemed to plough through the water for some time after it was submerged. The car was tilted over on one side and I managed to reach the fan light overhead and cling to it until help came.

"I heard people in the back part of the car groaning as if they were pinned fast. It was so dark that I could see no one and I think the passengers must have drowned like rats. After a while, it seemed an age, I heard people on top of the car and an ax crashed through the roof. Soon they had a hole cut in the roof and pulled me out through it. A man and boy (father and son) were also rescued in the same way, but I know of no other occupants of the coach escaping. The car at this time was floating, but fast filling with water and we were put ashore in a rowboat."

Manager Toucey was telegraphed for and on his arrival he wired the Chapman wrecking company at New York to bring their wrecking boat to raise the coaches. As soon as they arrived work commenced. In the meantime the coroner had arrived on the scene and as the coaches were hoisted on the river bank the dead were removed, numbered and placed in a car for identification. Fully 10,000 people visited the scene during the day.

HOTEL FIRE.

Three Persons Burned to Death and Seven Severely Injured.

KELLETTVILLE, Pa., Oct. 25.—Three persons were burned to death and seven more were severely injured in a fire that destroyed the Hotel Brooklyn here yesterday morning. The building was a 3-story one, roughly built of double boards and burned like tinder. When the fire was discovered there were 17 people asleep in the hotel. At that time the fire shut off all retreat from the rooms on the second and third floors. Six men on the second floor and five on the third saved themselves by jumping from the windows to the ground below, but there were none of these who escaped without severe burns or hurts. Those killed are:

PROFESSOR TUCKER, aged about 65 years, who traveled about the country giving stereopticon exhibitions, and is supposed to have come from Zwickley, near Pittsburg.

ANDREW SALSGIVER of Tionestab, a mail carrier, aged 21 years, and partially paralyzed.

MISS KATE MILLER of Kellettville, aged 19 years.

Mrs. William A. Kiser, a teacher in the Kellettville schools, was so badly burned about the face and body and so severely injured by jumping from the second story of the hotel that she may die.

What remained of the bodies of Tucker and Salsgiver were gathered together and were not enough to fill an ordinary cigar box.

WORK OF VIGILANTES.

Came Upon a Robber While in the Act of Stealing.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 25.—Louis Jestmore, of this city, was shot through the brain Saturday at Richards Station by a party of farmers composing a vigilance committee. Jestmore died from his injuries late in the day. The dead man was accompanied by his son and a man named Oliver Shambo, and they were in a wagon. The farmers claim that the Jestmore party was in the act of stealing potatoes and corn from the farm of a Mr. Bush when the shooting took place, and that Jestmore attacked them with a dray stake.

Heart Disease Cured.

WHEN a well known minister after suffering for years with heart disease, is cured, it is not surprising that he should publish the fact for the benefit of others. Rev. J. P. I used Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and my heart is now in good condition Recently, other afflictions came upon me. There was humming, painful sensations on top and back of my head. THE Bryan democrats are experiencing difficulty in even attempting to control the populists of Indiana who are training with N. H. Motsinger.

THE subject of postal savings banks is being discussed throughout the country. The Chicago Record especially has taken a strong stand favoring the establishment of such an institution in this country.

TAMMANY is making a tremendous fight for supremacy in Greater New York and unless the better elements are combined in opposition will succeed. There ought to be a sufficient number of voters in the great metropolis, having the proper sense of good goverment to forever keep such an organization in the background.

ANOTHER $100,000 of the state debt will be paid this week. This will make a total of $720,000 paid on the state debt so far during the fiscal year, and none of the bonds taken up were due but were paid under the optional clause in them. The state auditor is confident that $1,000,000 can be paid on the state debt next year. The financial interests of the state were never in better hands.

THE report recently made by the state librarian, Prof. W. E. Henry, is conclusive that he expects to make the library of much more practical benefit than it ever has been. His report, doubtless, makes known to the board a number of facts with which they were unacquainted. Prof. Henry has introduced order and system into the library which had been sadly neglected for years. The bibliography of Indiana for which considerable material has already been collected will most certainly prove of great historical value to the state.

Another Pioneer Gone.

We are called upon to note the passing away of another one of our most valued residents in the person of Miss Mary Mooney who passed to another and better world at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, October 24, 1897, at her home from the effects of an internal abscess, with which she has been aflicted for many months. Deceased was a daughter of James Mooney and was born on the farm now owned by Henry C Beyers, at Rockford, July 2, 1816, making her age eighty-one years, three months and twenty-one days at the time of her death. She was a devoted member of the M. E. church since her young womanhood days. She was as near a model of perfection as any one ever known here. She became a resident of Seymour soon after the city was laid out and has resided here since. She was one of our most industrious ladies and died as she had lived without a known enemy. It is safe to say she had cared for and raised more orphan children than any lady in the county. The county has but one older native born citizen than she. Her parents and relatives were among the county's most esteemed people. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow forenoon from the M. E church. Interment in the city cemetery on the family lot. Religious services by Rev. J. M. Baxter. All are invited.

There is a Class of People.

"Why They Killed the Savior" is the subject to be considered by the Adventists tonight. How the ecclesiastical power united with the state to accomplish its purpose. All are welcomed.

Rev. D. J. Ellison has resigned the pastorate of the First Baptist church of Indianapolis to take effect the last Sunday in December. Illness of members of his family requires him to go to a southern climate.

What the Vote Does Show.

The Brownstown Banner says "That the voters of Jackson county decide that Brownstown should remain the seat of justice." I say that's a mistake, but in fact what do they say? They declare by their votes by over 900 majority that Brownstown should not remain the seat of justice.

Because you carried the election by 41 or 42 per cent does not in the least imply that the voters of Jackson county desire no change in the county seat The will of the people is the voice of the people, and the voice of the people is the majority of that people.

VERNON.

THE COLOR ESCORT.

ONE OF THE MOST IMPRESSIVE OF ALL MILITARY OBSERVANCES.

Ceremony In Honor of the Stars and Stripes That Touches the Patriotic Chord. The Respect For the Flag Which Is Shown by Men, Women and Children.

There is nothing that more conduces to make a good, true and loyal soldier than to inculcate in him love and respect for the flag he has sworn to uphold and defend. To bring about this end, there are certain ceremonies in the army that are intended to impress the wearers of the uniform with the dignity of the flag. One of these ceremonies is called the "escort to the color," and it is the finest and most impressive of all military observances. Every regiment carries two flags—one national, the other the regimental, which carries the number and name of the regiment. These flags are kept at the residential quarters of the colonel or at his office, where they are zealously cared for. It is when the regiment parades, and these flags are to be brought to the troops, that the escort to the color is carried out.

When the regiment has formed line on the parade, the colonel details a company to bring the colors and escort them to their place in the line. The company marches in column of platoons, headed by the band, which does not play as the march down the front of the line is made. The two color sergeants, old and faithful soldiers appointed to these desired places by reason of long service and military bearing, march between the two platoons. Upon arriving in front of the building where the flags are kept line is formed, the band standing on the right of the escort.

The first lieutenant, with drawn sword, followed by the two color sergeants, who are followed in turn by a sergeant armed with a rifle, enters the building and receives the flags. When the color bearers appear, followed by the lieutenant and the sergeant, they halt at the entrance and form line, facing the escort. Arms are presented, and the field music (the trumpeters) sound a thrilling call named "To the color," during the sound of which all stand motionless, with arms at the present. After the sounding of the color has ended arms are brought to the order, and then column of platoons is reformed, the two color sergeants taking places between the two platoons, and thus guarded, the march is taken up, the band playing a spirited air.

Around the shady main avenue of the post marches the escort, each soldier erect and appearing as if he felt that the flags were intrusted to him alone instead of to the company of which he forms so small a part. How each man steps out to the strains of the march, probably Sousa's inspiring "Stars and Stripes Forever." Down past the officers' quarters, the porches of which are filled with the wives, daughters and sweethearts of the officers parading, goes the escort.

The respect for the flag is not confined to the wearers of the army blue, for as the escort passes each house these true and loyal women cease their talk and stand quietly till the flag has passed, when the interesting discussion or the latest news is resumed. Past a group of enlisted men not required to attend the parade marches the escort. Each man stands "attention," and removes his cap. A group of small boys at play is next passed. Every one, a true soldier's son, stands, cap in hand, till Old Glory has passed. I have seen this same small boy grow up, pass through the "Point" and command one of the platoons in the escort after graduation and maybe in the same company commanded by his father. This march around the post has at last brought the escort opposite the right of the line of paraded troops, when the colonel commands attention, and down the line passes the glittering guard.

On reaching a point in the front of the center of the paraded command the escort forms line facing the regiment, the two color sergeants marching to the front till 12 paces in front of the colonel and his staff. Arms are then presented to the flags by command of the colonel, and while the trumpeters again sound "to the color" the flags are allowed to fly to the breeze, the lances are lowered in acknowledgment of the "present," and now the moment is one to fill the soul of every lover of his country with a thrill that is indescribable. The silk and tasseled flags, caught by the rays of the sun, shine and glisten in front of the solid ranks of blue and gold uniforms massed across the deep green sward of the parade ground—a picture difficult for any pen to portray.

After the sounding of the color the two sergeants march to their places in the parade, and the escorting company, having faithfully carried out its sacred duty, now wheels into column of platoons and, headed by the band with inspiring music, proceeds on down the line and around in the rear of the regiment, whence, without music, it goes to its proper place in the line, and the formal dress parade is begun. After parade the color guard escorts the flags to the place where they are preserved.—Lieutenant B. W. Atkinson, U. S. A. in St. Nicholas.

Too Much Salt.

The New York Journal of Hygiene says that many people eat altogether too much salt. The result is that the skin and kidneys are excessively taxed to get rid of the salt, and both are injured by it. Few people have healthy skins, and it is believed that many cases of derangement of the kidneys are due to the salt habit.

The Cause of Confusion.

"Isn't it strange the way people make mountains out of molehills?"

"Oh, I don't know. When you aren't big enough to see over them, there isn't much difference."—Chicago Journal.

OAKLANDON, Ind., Oct. 25.—Three men were killed here yesterday while driving over the railroad crossing. They were residents of Mohawk, Hancock county. Their names are William Tuttle, Joseph Tuttle and Washington Kirby. The crossing here is in a deep cut and on both sides the road are houses making it impossible to see a train coming. WIFE HAD MARRIED AGAIN.

Walter Jameson Returns to His Home After Years of Absence.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 25.—Several years ago Walter Jameson left the city because he was out of work and hard up. His wife remained behind. After waiting for years and hearing nothing from him, Mrs. Jameson concluded he was dead. She then married George Babcock. Saturday Jameson returned here to see his wife, and he found himself supplanted by another. He is now a rich man and still loves her. She prefers Jameson to Babcock and an effort will be made to get a legal separation through the courts, there having been no intent on the part of the woman to commit bigamy. Babcock is the most cast down of the three.

REDUCING THE STATE DEBT.

Finance Board Takes Up $100,000 In Bonds.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 25. — The state finance board today took up $100,000 of 3½ per cent bonds in the hands of the German Savings bank of New York. Of the bonds taken up this year none were due, but were redeemed under the optional clause, thus reducing the interest account about $2,000 per month.

The would-be murderer fled. There is considerable excitement over the affair.

Among the beneficeries of Thomas Capps are Charles R. Capps and J. M. Capps of this city and A. S. Capps of Rivertown.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES.

Porte Demands the Recall of Two From the Province of Aleppo.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 25.—The porte has demanded the recall of two American missionaries from the province af Aleppo on the pretext that their mission for the distribution of relief is likely to cause disturbances. The United States legation has ignored the demand and will continue to do so until definite charges are made, being convinced that the demand is merely the first step to a general one asking for the recall of all missionaries.

Floods In Italy.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A private cablegram from Paris received yesterday states that Major Moses P. Handy has almost entirely recovered from his recent illness and is now out of danger. He will sail for America next Saturday.

Vegetable Dropsy.

Some experiments at Cornell university have aroused much interest on account of the development of what appears to be a form of plant dropsy. Tomatoes grown in the warm, moist air of the forcing houses had leaves that were swollen and semitransparent. The swelling continued until the veins of the leaves burst and considerable liquid flowed out. This was caused by too much water at the roots and an over supply in the air. The leaves were not able to give off the water supplied from the roots and stalks, and the congested condition of the leaves and subsequent bursting of the veins was a true type of a dropsical condition.—New York

Made Him Propose.

The diffident young man wanted to propose to his girl, but for the life of him he did not know how to go about it. He read books on the subject and sought information from men who had experience, and while the theories were admirable in every instance he found that the practice thereof was a different thing. He was walking with her one evening, thinking over these things, when her shoe became untied.

She stuck out her pretty little foot, with a smile, and looked down at it. He fell on his knees to tie the lace. Then he walked on with her. The shoe became untied again. The third time it happened he was ready as before.

"See if you can't tie a knot that won't come undone," she said, as he worked away at it.

He looked up at her tenderly.

"If I can't, I know a man who can," he said.

"Do you want him to tie it?" she asked coquettishly.

"Yes," he replied.

She jerked her foot away. He smiled to himself.

"It's the parson," he said. And he rose to his feet and finished the proposal.—Strand Magazine.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, today stands at the head. Third One Arrested.

Willis Utterback, who is charged with helping to rob William Armbruster's store at Kurtz, was arrested 12 miles east of Bedford Friday. He was arraigned and plead not guilty. Some of the goods stolen from Armbruster's store it is reported were found and indentified at Utterback's house. Several robberies have been committed in that neighborhood and it is believed that the parties now under arrest have been connected with most of them.

Among Old Friends.

Charley Bevins, a Bartholomew county pioneer citizen and business man who now lives at Seymour, was here Thursday visiting a few of his old friends of pioneer days. He and Archie Thompson were boys and schoolmates together. Mr. Bevins is now nearly 77 years old and his wife will be 67 within a month. For forty years during Mr. Bevin's younger manhood he was a resident of Azalia and Jonesville, and during this period bought and shipped more hogs than any other man ever did in Bartholomew county. Mr. Bevins simply stopped off here a day to renew a few of his old acquaintances, going on up to Indianapolis Friday morning to spend a week with friends.—Columbus Times.

Seymour REPUBLICAN.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; nor a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

GRAPES AND THE APPENDIX.

The Little Seeds Are Not So Dangerous as Has Been Claimed.

Things have been said about the baneful and delicious juice of the grape ever since the olden time when Noah found out about it and came thereby to grief, but even before that men ate grapes, and only within the last decade have they been talked to about that. It is only since surgeons began to make money hunting for grape seeds in the vermiform appendix that people have been afraid to eat grapes and to eat them straight.

It now appears that in all the thousands of cases famous, and possibly in some cases infamous, in which this new fashioned surgical operation has been performed there is not one case in which a grape seed or any other little bullet shaped thing has been found in the vermiform appendix. The whole interior of the appendix is only big enough to admit a medium sized darning needle. Nobody knows what it is there for, but it must have been useful at some time. It is a case of the survival of the unfit, like the wisdom teeth, which are of so little use to most people, and the tonsils, which cause so much trouble now and then.

The tonsils and the appendix are both unused parts of the body and peculiarly liable to disease because they are not strengthened by use. If inflammation attacks them, they are unable to resist. Thus many diseases which have been ascribed to peritonitis or colic or a mysterious providence of some kind have been due to the diseased condition of this little useless organ of the human system, and if the trouble had been discovered in time the appendix could have been removed, and all would have been well.

The remedy, therefore, is not in avoiding grape seeds, which do not cause the trouble, but in keeping as well and as strong as possible, and in case of sudden illness calling a reliable doctor, who will know what the matter is. Somebody once said that most people use a doctor to enable them to sin against the laws of nature with impunity. But that is a bad use for him.—Washington Times.

Bagpipes In New Guinea.

Mr. Angus MacKenzie, an old miner well known as a prospector in northern Queensland, Australia, recently arrived from New Guinea with a large quantity of gold and thinks there is a great advantage in being a Scotchman. When he left for New Guinea, he took bagpipes with him, and to their agency he attributes much of the luck which fell to his lot while prospecting for gold. He said that the natives would do anything for him, providing he played the pipes to them at night. They looked after him and his effects and acted as porters without other pay than the music of the pipes. They took him over new country and showed him where heavy gold could be obtained. It is possible that intending prospectors in New Guinea might lay out their money to worse advantage than in the purchase of bagpipes. In any case, Mr. MacKenzie regards the pipes as the best and most judicious investment he ever made.—New York Sun.

November Ladies' Home Journal.

"The First Thanksgiving Dinner," Lilian Bell's First Days in London" and "When Dr. Whitman Added Three Stars to Our Flag" are among the leading features of the November Ladies' Home Journal. The first tells of the most historically important dinner in America, at which Indian chiefs were guests, and at which oysters were first eaten by white men. Miss Bell finds much in London to inspire her pen to its smartest activity. Dr. Whitman's service to the United States in saving Oregon, Washington and Idaho from the British are acknowledged in an article which follows the first women across the continent, and the first whites across the Rocky Mountains. Magician Kellar writes on "How I Do My Tricks," showing how simple is their solution when it is known.

The second article on "Inside of a Hundred Homes" is more attractive and rich in suggestion on furnishing and fitting up a home than was the excellent inaugural one of the series. It presents fifteen views. Edward W. Bok advises young married folks against living in a hotel or boarding house.

Pianists will be delighted with the musical feature, "Poet's Dream Waltzes" by Reginald de Koven author of "Robin Hood," etc. The November Journal is interesting, instructive and practical By the Curtis Publishing Company Philadelphia. One dollar per year; ten cents per copy.

PRAYING BICYCLES.

Japanese Attach Prayer Wheels to the Hubs of Their Machines.

The bicycle is now employed to aid the pious Buddhist in praying with greater ease, but yet, as he hopes, with great effect. It is from the ingenious and enterprising country of Japan that this new departure is reported.

The Buddhist has always done his praying with the assistance of a wheel. The prayers are placed inside the wheel, which turns round, following the direction of the sun, and delivers up to heaven the prayers of the owner, or of all whose thoughts are fixed upon it. Some enormous wheels are capable of praying for thousands of people. This mode of worship may seem somewhat irresponsible to western people, but the Buddhist, who is a subtle reasoner, would be able to explain why it is satisfactory.

In various parts of the vast territory in which the Buddhist faith is held different motive powers are used in these prayer wheels. Some humble persons turn the wheel by hand, but not if they can help it. On the hills of Tibet, a great stronghold of pure Buddhism, the wheels are usually so built that the wind turns them. In other places they are moved by water power.

But it is obvious that wind must fail occasionally and that this may happen when the Buddhist is particularly in need of copious prayer. Water power, too, is often lacking.

So the ingenious Jap now attaches a small prayer wheel to the hub of his bicycle, and when he takes a ride he combines worship with recreation. By giving a glance at his pedometer he can tell just how much praying he has done. He can also keep an accurate daily record, which will enable him to tell after a number of years just how much prayer stands to his credit. In this way Buddhism seems to have given a zest to bicycling which no other religion can supply.—New York Journal.

His Part In the Affair.

A very dejected looking man stood in the dignified presence of the police judge.

"You are charged with being drunk and disorderly," said the judge with great solemnity. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"I don't know, your honor," responded the submissive prisoner. "I suppose I am."

"Am?" queried the judge a little less solemnly.

The prisoner rubbed his eyes as if to see more clearly.

"No, your honor," he said. "Not am, but was."

"Was what?"

"Was drunk, I suppose, your honor."

"You've never been here before, have you?"

"No, your honor."

"Have you any explanation to offer for your unseemly conduct?"

"Not that I can recall at this moment, your honor," and the prisoner rubbed his head as if to start the circulation of his memory once more.

"I am informed," suggested the judge in a kindly tone, for he had a weakness that way himself, "that you were fishing."

This suggestion appeared to be what the prisoner needed.

"Thanks, your honor," said he with a brightening face, "but I wasn't fishing."

"No?" and the erstwhile kindness of the judge's manner grew cold.

"No, your honor, I was cutting bait. The Lord only knows the condition of the man who did the fishing. I left him speechless under a tree two hours before I met the policeman."

The case was continued until a searching party returned.—New York Sun.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptable for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other disease.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble o some sort. The error is easily made and and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney, and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need any medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention the REPUBLICAN and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

THE CRATER OF RAINIER.

Experiences of a Night on the Summit of the Weird Mountain.

Throwing off the life line, which had become almost an intolerable burden, I scaled the pile of bare rocks and gained the rim of the crater. The great bowl within was deeply filled with snow, but the black circle forming its rim could be distinctly traced. Descending the inner slope for about 100 feet, I found a place where steam was issuing from a crevice in the rocks and warmed my benumbed fingers. Soon my companions joined me, and we took refuge in one of the many caverns that the heat of the rocks and of the escaping steam had melted in the lower portion of the snow and ice partially filling the crater. In these weird caverns one may descend far beyond the light of day. The white vapors drifting silently through the dimly lighted passages assume grotesque shapes and suggest to the imaginative visitor that spirits of the time when Pluto's reign was supreme there make their homes.

By melting snow in our tin cups over the cracks from which steam was issuing we soon had water enough with which to prepare tea. In the absence of sugar and cream a little alcohol from the supply brought for fuel was added to each cup and proved a welcome stimulant. Making ourselves as comfortable as possible under the circumstances, we passed the night in the cavern of ice. There were no ledges broad enough to lie down on, and we were forced to stand or crouch against the hot rocks all night. The floor of our cavern sloped steeply and led down to an ugly opening of unknown depth between the descending roof of ice and the rocks. To guard against accidents, the life line was stretched across the cavern and made fast to crags. This proved a wise precaution, as we were able during the night to walk up and down with the rope in our hands and avoid the stiffness and discomfort that come from remaining long in one position.—Israel C. Russell in Scribner's.

UNNECESSARY HEROISM.

A Connecticut Man's Experience With a Substitute Bathtub.

One of the most ridiculous situations which at the time bring the coldest sweat out on a man's brow and ever after remain with him as a constant source of mirth occurred to a Shelton merchant. He thought he would take a bath, and as his flat is minus one of the chief requisites for the job—a bathtub—he extemporized one out of a small washtub and enjoyed a cooling ablution.

He had just concluded and stepped from the tub for the towel, when suddenly the top hoop of the tub burst with a sharp report, and the man saw to his horror that the whole contents of the tub would soon be flooding the floor. At the same moment he thought of the store beneath and the amount of damage the water would do as it ran down through the ceiling. He is a man of quick thought, and in a moment he did the only thing possible—threw himself down beside the tub and, clasping his arms around it, held the already fast swelling staves together. He was successful in keeping the water in—but what a situation! He dared not yell, for he was hardly in a condition to receive callers, especially as he knew that all in the block at the time were of the gentler sex, and he realized at once that the only thing left for him was to stay in that position until the return of his wife, who was out on a shopping expedition.

Like the boy who saved Holland, he manfully remained in his most uncomfortable position until relief in the shape of his wife appeared. Then, to cap the climax, when he asked her to get a rope or any old thing to tie about the tub, she, after a long fit of uncontrollable laughter, asked him why he didn't carry tub and contents out to the sink room and pour out the water. With a look that froze the smile on her face he did as she said and without a word donned his clothing and wandered out into the cold, unfeeling world, a crushed and humiliated man.—Ansonia Sentinel

Saratoga Women.

The Woman's Association For Greater Saratoga is one of the largest clubs of women in the country, with the smallest annual dues. It has 1,600 members, and the dues are 10 cents a year.

Any woman in Saratoga who will and can is asked to join and help the work along, this all for the benefit of the Greater Saratoga. The Greater Saratoga is to include all the region of the 50 springs in the valley, and the ultimate object of the women is to have the state of New York buy all these springs and to have them all free.

The annual dues are all put aside for this purpose, but every year they have one or two large entertainments at which they raise generous sums of money, and these they give for any needed improvement around Saratoga. Recently they contributed $70 for bicycle paths. Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth, president of the Post Parliament club of New York, is president of the association.—Woman's Journal
